

For My Father

I love you, and I miss you.

And I will always cherish the good times we had together.

I regret not being more open with how I felt, and not appreciating more deeply the times we had while we had them.

Though I was usually unable to say the things I wanted to — or even needed to — I think you know how I actually felt.

It will be tough without you here.

But it's only temporary.

I love you, Dad.

— Brad